ANNOUNCEMENTS

DAVIS THEATRE.
American Game Trails Special Picture
Today Only—Boy Scouts' Night Tonight.

Today there will be a complete change of photoplays at the Davis and a special feature at the American Game Trails, a four part picture that will interest everyone. It shows the intimate life and habits of the big game in the Canadian wilderness. It tells the hardships and adventures of the expedition which dared so much to secure the first complete film of the life of animal, bird and gamey fish life in the New Brunswick region. Canoe shooting the most formidable rapids, scenes of the wildest beauty in rivers, lakes, forests and mountains, add to the absorbing interest of this thrilling adventure. Nature is full of humor and many good laughs are enjoyed in following the hunters through the exciting drama of the chase. An interesting picture will be given by Mr. Buckland of the hunters while the picture is being shown. The picture is of local interest as it has been taken by Mr. Buckland, formerly representative of the International Correspondence school in Norwich, and he appears throughout the picture. A special invitation has been given the Boy Scouts of this city and they will turn out in a body tonight. There are also three fine vaudeville acts on the bill including The Exposition Jubilee, four great singing quartets, and a romantic adventure story from Limerick, who sings Irish songs and tells stories in a way that will keep you enjoying yourself. The third act is Belle Ladouce, a novelty athletic girl.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Jane Cow, Eminent English Beauty, in Garden of Lies, Five Reels.

Owing to the fact that the Colonial theatre will be given over this evening to the Y. M. C. A. musical course, there will be only a matinee today. Appearing in the screen feature this afternoon is Jane Cow, the famous English beauty of the stage, in the gripping dramatic novelty The Garden of Lies, a mammoth five reel feature. This offers to the patrons a most attractive and notable cast. Highly thrilling and absorbing as well, with one of the strongest plots ever written, telling of lost memory and a romantic adventure. It is an adaptation of the novel by the same name by Justus Miles Forman and is adapted to the screen by Louis Reeves Harrison. Every portion of the drama as presented for extended periods at the famous Broadway theatre, New York, is fully represented in the screen version. The picture has much to do with royalty, and as a consequence the picture is one of the most elaborate and fascinating type. The photography is well rich and the acting is as might be imagined, when it is known that the production was made by the famous Universal Film Manufacturing company, a firm whose pre-eminence in its field no one can doubt. Tomorrow the Colonial will present the talented dramatic actor, Ralph Lewis, in a powerful inspiring drama, The Wolf Man, featuring Ralph Lewis as the wolf man. This is a big Mutual five reel picture with superb acting and thrilling incidents and brilliant acting. Remember, the Colonial offers a complete change of photoplays every day, including a five reel feature with world-famous stars.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Miss Charlotte Walker, the distinguished dramatic actress, is appearing at this house today and tomorrow in the production of Kindling, which is offered by the Lasky Feature Play company through an arrangement with E. J. Bowes. This play, which is the most dramatic offering yet produced by the Lasky company, is a story of an extraordinary Broadway success, especially adapted to the dramatic genius of Miss Walker, who thus makes her debut under the most favorable auspices. The company engaged to support Miss Walker, includes the famous Thomas Meighan, Raymond Hatton, Mrs. McCord, Billy Elmer, Lillian Langdon, Florence Dagmar and Tom Forman.

Kindling tells the story of a poor woman of the tenements who is married to a man of Germanic extraction.

"DON'T SUFFER FROM A COLD"

"Feel Like a New Person," says Mrs. Hamilton.

New Castle, Ind.—"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would cramp double every month. I did not know what it was to be easy a minute. My health was all run down and the doctors did not do me any good. A neighbor told my mother about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it, and now I feel like a new person. I don't suffer any more and I am regular every month."—Mrs. HAZEL HAMILTON, 822 South 15th St.

When a remedy has lived for forty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their health to it, it is not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit? If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

In the chapter The Religion of the Future Mr. Smith writes: It will be characterized by the spirit of the future, by its comprehensiveness, by its distinguishing between the true and the false, by its being a religion of life, by its being a religion of right living and right relations towards God and man, by the fact that he is the truest Christian whose life is the truest.

MORGENTHAU NOT RETIRING FROM BUSINESS

American Ambassador to Turkey Coming For Personal Reasons.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Henry Morgenthau, American ambassador to Turkey, is returning to the United States on personal and not official business, it was said today by a source in the State department. Mr. Morgenthau had been at the post continuously twenty-one months. Officials explained press despatches from the State department that Mr. Morgenthau was returning by the way of Berlin for the purpose of consulting with the German government, saying that the ambassador to Turkey considered he could travel more quickly by going through Germany than by taking another route.

ALBERT SPALDING, VIOLINIST, AT SLATER HALL FRIDAY.

New York Critics Speak in Highest Terms of Praise of His Playing.

Albert Spalding, the most distinguished American violinist, and one of the finest violins in the world, is to make his first appearance before a Norwich audience in Slater hall on Friday evening. This will be the last of his appearances before the Norwich audience. The season 1915-16, and while the two preceding seasons have been fully up to the high standards established in former seasons it may be said with out detracting from the merits of the other artists that the Spalding recital will be the most important musical event of the season. Although Mr. Spalding has been before the public only a few years yet in musical circles he ranks as one of the foremost violinists and as one of the foremost violinists of his time. The musical critic of the New York Times says him the following tribute: Mr. Spalding gave a concert yesterday afternoon in Aeolian hall and showed himself to have gained a still greater power and to have reached a still higher stature as an artist. His progress has been not only in technical skill; it is still more significantly and potently shown in more elusive matters than in the technical, in imagination, in maturity and fullness of expression, in the subtle differentiation of every note.

Mr. Spalding, by his playing yesterday, gave an artist clear to a higher rank as a soloist than he has ever before established for himself. It is this gain that comes from an inner growth, from the development of an individuality that keeps the highest ideal in view and yields in nothing to the temptations that beset the virtuoso. It has been a pleasure to note this young American artist's gain in the essentials of his art. In the finish and refinement of his playing, in the certainty and accuracy of his technique, in the beauty of his tone, and especially in the intellectual and emotional insight of his recitals.

Tickets for the Spalding recital are now on sale at the store of George A. Davis. In the larger cities of the country music lovers gladly pay $2 and $3 to hear this distinguished artist, and when it is considered that an opportunity is afforded to him on Friday evening for $1 it would seem as though Slater hall should be filled to capacity. Every student of the violin and every music lover should hear this great artist who has secured for himself a hold on the admiration and affection of the musical public which is increasing every year.

FRENCH INCOME TAX

EFFECTIVE THIS YEAR. Every Resident Whose Income Exceeds $1,000 Must Pay.

Paris, Feb. 1.—The French Income tax law, passed in July 1914 after more than a fifty year discussion of the old-fangled system, will take effect this year. Under the terms of the new measure every person living in France whether citizen or foreigner, must pay two per cent tax on the taxable portion of his income if it amounts to $1,000 a year. The taxable income is twenty per cent of incomes $1,000 to $2,000 a year; forty per cent of incomes ranging from $2,000 to $3,000; sixty per cent of incomes from $3,000 to $10,000 and eighty per cent of anything over $10,000. A man earning $5,000 a year would therefore pay two per cent on $4,000 or $80 per year, and others in proportion.

As near as experts are able to figure out with various deductions for family dependancies and other exceptions, the number of persons who will pay the income tax is about 451,000 having a total revenue of 6 billion 725 million francs.

The net taxable total, it is thought, will reach about 2 billion francs ($400,000,000) producing a total revenue to the state of 40 million francs ($8,000,000).

For A Few Cents

And a Little Action

Perhaps for weeks you have enjoyed the sensation of having a house, room, office, barn, etc., unwanted. You have often thought of the little Bulletin Want Ad which would have secured the tenant, but the thought of the cost has deterred you.

You did not realize that a three-line ad three days in The Bulletin costs only 45c and for one week only 90 cents.

You did not realize that one day's rent pays for an ad and one week's rent pays for several weeks' advertising.

These thoughts once fixed in your mind would have impelled you at once to call 480, The Bulletin Co.

The results take care of the cost.
